Some Facts Illustrating the Growth of a Popular Store.

THE "MISFIT CLOTHING PARLOR"

PHOENIX-LIKE, HAS RISEN FROM A MISERABLE LITTLE SHANTY TO A PALACE UNEQUALLED IN BEAUTY.

THE MEANING OF "MISFIT CLOTHING."

And Why It Is Superior and the Best to Buy—A Popular Place to Trade—Values Never Misrep.

In looking around Guthrie for examples of energy and progress the writer could not well overlook the Misfit Clothing Parlor since it was moved into its present magnificent room in the Weinberger building. In new towns there are always numerous evidences of that progressive spirit that pulls men out of the rut, and in this respect Guthrie is not lacking, but such remarkable success as that of Mr. P. Newman is seldom seen anywhere.

The practical meaning of "Misfit Clothing" is that which has been made to order and did not fit, or was uncleaned for. It does not follow that this clothing will not fit anybody. From the immense stock carried patrons can get as neat a fit at Newman's as any tailor can make and at much less cost. The life time experience of Mr. Newman, who is a practical tailor, has contributed to the success of the Misfit Clothing Parlor and has made it popular with the people. It is that combination of energy, experience, courtesy and fair dealing that has brought the Misfit Clothing Parlor from the little shack on Second street, in which it was established March 14, 1891, subsequently moved to a frame 16x32 on Oklahoma avenue and finally, pressed by a growing business, had to seek the handsome quarters it now occupies, which is the lower floor of the Weinberger building. The room is 25x112 and is elegantly furnished on the most modern plan. In the center of the room are numerous racks from which all coats and vests are hung in order to exhibit well and keep them from being wrinkled and soiled by handling.

The new room is well filled with the finest line of clothing, consisting of suits, overcoats and odd pants, ever carried in Guthrie. A full line of boys and children's suits abound. The gents' furnishing goods department is complete in every detail with the latest in style. A full line of trunks and valises will be found at prices lower than other dealers attempt to duplicate. Hats and caps for both men and boys, and in fact, everything to be found in the clothing houses of the largest cities. It is better to buy tailor-made suits when they can be had at such prices, and the Misfit Clothing Parlor guarantees every article sold, both in price and quality.

THE KICKAPOO COUNTRY.

The Indians May Make Trouble Over the Allotments.

W. G. Richardson, correspondent of the Kansas City Star and New York Recorder, and Judge E. W. Sweeney of Oklahoma City returned yesterday from a trip of several days through the Kickapoo country. They were accompanied by Johnnie Mines, the Kickapoo guide.

Mr. Richardson made a thorough examination, considering the short time out, and was highly pleased with it in every respect, declaring it the garden spot in soil and the finest land in soil, prairie and timber he has seen in Oklahoma. He thinks, however, that the Kickapoos are going to make trouble before they take their money and allotments. There are a number of them who swear the names secured to the treaty by the Cherokee commission were forged thereto; signed without the Indians' knowledge or consent—and they will not abide by it. They have been at the Sac and Fox agency having "cheap talk" with Moses Neal, the allotting agent, and he may be able to get them to hear reason. Their "kick" at this late day will have no effect on the opening of the country, for if they do not take their allotments voluntarily the land will be set apart for them. The treaty was made with the full and free consent of the persons who signed it, and their reconsideration at this late day is the work of white men among them, who have been continually stirring up strife ever since a treaty was first talked of. These white men will find themselves in limbo if the agent can get evidence of such work among the Indians.

Gas Wells at Kildare.

An exchange says that at Kildare three wells are being sunk. One of them is down ninety feet and Mr. Bushyhead states that the drill is passing through a formation of blue slate. In another well two small veins of natural gas have been struck at a depth of fifty feet. There was sufficient gas to burn and blaze up out of the well, but it takes more than gas to build up a town.
